About CDA of California

The California Delivery Association is a non-profit industry association of businesses engaged in the time-sensitive transportation of goods and documents. The CDA mission is to promote, encourage, broaden and advance the common interests of those engaged in the messenger/courier industry in California.

CDA was formed in 1987 by representatives from various messenger and courier companies who saw the need for a central organization that would address the issues and challenges that are common to us all. By choosing "co-opetition" over competition, CDA furthers the common interests of the member companies while raising the professionalism of the group as a whole.
